

Employee Events

U&C understands the importance of employee engagement and how this impacts the way people feel at work and about work. As a Company we are keen to foster belonging in our workplaces and in the business on a whole and arrange a number of company-wide events over the course of the year to bring everyone together. These have very much become part of U&C's culture and the Company calendar. Not only do they support business communications and provide an opportunity to collectively give back (with Company Volunteering initiatives), they also allow us to celebrate our employee achievements (with our Annual Values Awards) and above all, enjoy time together!

The various offices, project teams and departments within U&C will also hold their own events, team building sessions and local initiatives.
